A new state-of-the-art EAW and Powersoft sound system has recently been installed. The system has been custom-designed using EASE modelling for coverage, and precision, with future upgrades and control options in mind.

The system was installed by Adelaide's Australian Audio and Lighting Technology. Ben Clarke of Production Audio Services - distributor of EAW and Powersoft, says, "we have been able to assist in the supply of what is truly a world class sound re-enforcement system. The EAW AX range is our latest release of installation specific elements, designed with the new Guinness Focusing(tm) techniques in mind to accurately reproduce whatever program material is required. Vocal intelligibility is particularly strong in this design."
